Dear Stephen,

Someone shared with me recently how discouraged they were to see their country moving away from God. It seems like this is extremely difficult for older people who have seen values that were once held dear now being despised by many. I can certainly relate to their feelings. Jeremiah, the weeping prophet, lamented as he saw God's judgment upon his beloved nation. I have to remind myself that my country is in heaven.

Hebrews 11:16

But now they desire a better [country], that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

We are aliens in this world. This world will always hate us.

We should rejoice for soon we will be with our King.
