

Greetings!

Obama - the Good, the Bad and the Ugly

President Obama just finished his first year in office. I want to give an honest and objective evaluation of his administration. Let me say upfront that I did not vote for Mr. Obama but I'll try to be fair.

The Good

He sent more troupes to Afghanistan to support our boys. He was too slow to act but he did the right thing. Pakistan is very unstable and we cannot let our enemies gain control of Pakistan's nuclear weapons.

He appears to be a faithful husband. That's better than some previous Presidents.

He seems to be a good dad.

He may have good intentions. I cannot judge a man's heart so I will give him the benefit of the doubt.

His speeches are not as boring as Bush's or Clinton's.

The Bad

President Obama struck down a rule that prohibits U.S. money from funding international family-planning clinics that promote abortion or provide counseling or referrals about abortion services.

He ended the stem cell research ban.

He has doubled the deficit in less than a year and will triple it this next year.

Printing trillions of dollars will bring inflation down the road and devalue the dollar.

Stimulus was full of waste and pork for his liberal buddies.

The very small amount of jobs created were over priced, temporary government jobs.

His Health Care bill is unconstitutional and will bankrupt us like TennCare was bankrupting the State of Tennessee. We will lose freedoms.

Soft on Terror - We are less safe than a year ago. He refused to call them terrorist until just recently. He wants to read them (Enemy Combative not U.S. Citizens) Miranda Rights. This will reduce the amount of information we will receive to keep us safe.

The Ugly

Chicago Style Politics - Strong arm, ram it down your throat, closed door negotiations. He promised transparency. Was he lying to us.

Bribes to Senators, Union Leaders, Drug Companies, AIG, ect.

A tax cheat running the economy.

He commands banks to loan more money while regulators are telling them to get their house in order. Now he wants to put a heavy tax on the banks. This is not ugly, "It is dumb".

I'm tired, I'm going to quit now.

Pastor Carl
